

More funding for rural and lower income districts for high-speed Internet and wifi access. There is a huge discrepancy between the discounts afforded to metropolitan areas with high speed access than the competitive rural areas with high speed access at such high cost.